Lab Equipment | Service | Information

MISSION

Labexchange offers all devices of all manufacturers, used or new, with guarantee to providers of analytics for the entire laboratory and analytical area – and this at reasonable prices.

Labexchange continuously has available the world's largest selection of used and new equipment.

VISION

Due to the number of offered used devices Labexchange is the largest provider for many years now and therefore market leader in Europe and worldwide.

In future we would like to carry this market leadership into all European countries. Further own branches will be established in other important countries, which complete the equipment and service network of the Labexchange Group.

NEW & USED

INDEPENDENT OF MANUFACTURER & IN LINE WITH DEMAND

VALUES

As a matter of principle, Labexchange promotes the sustainable use of valuable equipment. A device which, due to changed circumstances, is no longer of value for one user, is often precisely what someone else is searching for at that given time.

Labexchange specialises in evaluating the operability of used laboratory and analysis devices and restoring full operability by performing the necessary service measures. We consider this to be an important contribution to sustainable added value and eco-efficiency. The devices which we have brought back into the market are offered under the brand name Labexchange®. With this we enable optimum exploitation of the service life and operability of valuable analysis devices. At the same time, we offer our customers laboratory equipment with a unique cost-benefit ratio and quality guarantee.

As leading platform for quality second-hand equipment, we thoroughly verify and test every single device.

We are a highly experienced, independent supplier and therefore under no obligation to individual brands or manufacturers. You can be sure that we will give you independent and appropriate advice.

We call this principle modern laboratory and analysis technology.
